

Klar — English/German Dictionary (Everyday Vocabulary)

Version: 1.0 · Stand: 2026-08-06 Companion document to "Kunstsprache-Entwurf" (grammar rules) and "Klar — Wörterbuch" (German core vocabulary + phrases).

Änderungshistorie / Changelog

Version	Date	Change
1.0	2026-08-06	First batch: ~94 everyday roots (body, nature, animals, food, time, colors, people, verbs, adjectives, objects). Every root validated with <code>check_roots.py</code> (phonotactics, collisions, voicing-only and r/l minimal pairs — see Entwurfsdokument 7.1)

How to read this list

Every entry is a bare root. Add a class ending (Entwurfsdokument 4.1) to get a real word:

Ending	Word class	Example
-a	noun	kop a = "the head"
-e	adjective	kop e = "head-like"
-i	verb	kop i = "to head/lead"
-o	adverb	kop o = "in a head-way"

Not every root is equally natural in every class (e.g. `kop` is mainly used as a noun) — but the rule always applies, no exceptions (Prinzip 1).

Notes

- All 94 roots were checked against the full existing lexicon and grammatical particles (Entwurfsdokument, ~60 items) plus each other — zero collisions, zero voicing-only minimal pairs, zero r/l minimal pairs, all phonotactically legal (K)V structure.
- A few roots lean on English/international mnemonics where it didn't cost anything (new =neu, gud =gut, bad =schlecht, sit =sitzen, dog =Hund, kat =Katze) — purely a memorization aid, not a grammatical rule.
- This is tranche 1 (~94 words). Target from the Entwurfsdokument (Prinzip 4) is 300-500 roots — further tranches can follow the same validated process.
